Mural project brings outdoor art to Au Sable Forks

BY TODD MOE (WEEKDAY MORNING HOST AND PRODUCER), IN CANTON, NY

Feb 15, 2023 — An Adirondack artist is spending this winter sketching and designing an outdoor mural. Georgeanne Gaffney has been chosen as muralist for the 2023 Tahawus Cultural Center’s outdoor mural project, called “A Sense of Place”. The mural will be located at the end of a small rectangular pocket park, which folks in Au Sable Forks call “the Grotto”.

Georgeanne Gaffney is a landscape, portrait and decorative artist based in Saranac Lake. Her work has been on display in galleries and exhibits in the Adirondacks for the last 20 years. She told Todd Moe that her proposal for the Tahawus Cultural Center’s mural was inspired by the Ausable River Gorge. She’s collaborated in the past with designers, architects and clients on other outdoor murals.
